There are several reasons why the proposed policy changes may be opposed. One reason is that the proposed changes may be seen as a threat to the autonomy of the individual states. Another reason is that the proposed changes may be seen as a threat to the federal government's ability to regulate interstate commerce. Finally, there may be concerns about the impact of the proposed changes on the environment.

Chavez, Castro defy US by forging oil agreement

By the Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, June 10 — Venezuela's President Hugo Chavez and Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro announced today they had signed a landmark oil agreement that would allow the two nations to trade oil for sugar, a move that defies U.S. sanctions against both countries.

The agreement, which was signed in Havana, would allow Venezuela to export oil to Cuba in exchange for Cuban sugar. The deal is seen as a major victory for Chavez and Castro, who have long been allies of the United States.

The agreement also allows for the exchange of other goods, such as Venezuelan oil for Cuban medical supplies. The deal is expected to significantly increase the flow of goods between the two countries.

The agreement is a direct challenge to U.S. sanctions, which prohibit the export of oil to Cuba and the export of sugar to Venezuela. The U.S. has long argued that such trade would undermine its economic and political interests in the region.

Chavez and Castro both praised the agreement as a historic moment for their nations. Chavez said the deal would "strengthen the ties between our two countries" and "benefit the people of both nations."

Castro also praised the agreement, saying it would "allow us to continue our struggle for social justice and economic development."

The agreement is expected to be implemented within a few weeks. It is seen as a major step in the process of normalizing relations between the two nations.

affine α is a \mathbb{Z} -linear combination of the α_i 's. The α_i 's are called the simple roots of \mathfrak{g} . The α_i 's are linearly independent, and the α_i 's are the only roots of \mathfrak{g} that are not multiples of other roots. Faith grows on barren ground

By Kim Phillips

With the arrival of the dry season, some of the most barren ground in the world is being transformed into a lush, green landscape. In the heart of the desert, a new life is being born.

At the top, a group of people, including children and adults, stand in front of a large, ornate wooden cross. The cross is decorated with flowers and garlands. The scene appears to be outdoors in a dry, open area.

Only the best are invited.

At the heart of the world is a place where the best are always invited. The best are always invited.

Only the best are invited.

Haydee bares Palace pressure to quit PCGG

Haydee has been under intense pressure from the Palace to quit her post as chairperson of the Presidential Commission on Good Government (PCGG), sources close to the President's office said.

The pressure is said to have come from the President's office, which is reportedly unhappy with Haydee's handling of the PCGG's investigation into the alleged involvement of President Arroyo's family in the 1998-1999 election.

Haydee, who has been in the PCGG chair since 2001, has been accused of being too lenient towards the President's family, particularly her son, Juan Pardo Lacson, who is the current mayor of Manila.

Haydee has denied the allegations, saying that she has been fair and impartial in her investigations.

Ex-MC for Harper: Good job

Former Member of Congress (MC) for the House of Representatives, Jose "Bong" Abaya, has been praised for his performance as a legislator.

Abaya, who served from 1998 to 2001, was a member of the House of Representatives for the 10th and 11th Congresses.

He was known for his strong support of President Arroyo and his family, particularly his son, Juan Pardo Lacson.

Abaya's performance as a legislator was widely criticized, but he has now been praised for his work.

Palace says

The Palace has said that it is not aware of any pressure being put on Haydee to quit her post as chairperson of the PCGG.

The Palace spokesman said that the President's office is not involved in the PCGG's investigations.

He said that the PCGG is an independent body that reports directly to the President.

The spokesman also said that the President's office is not aware of any allegations against Haydee.

Curious & ordinary

The PCGG's investigation into the alleged involvement of President Arroyo's family in the 1998-1999 election has been described as both curious and ordinary.

The investigation has been described as curious because it has focused on the President's family, which is a highly sensitive issue.

It has also been described as ordinary because it is a standard part of the PCGG's mandate to investigate alleged election fraud.

Part & share

The PCGG's investigation into the alleged involvement of President Arroyo's family in the 1998-1999 election has been described as a "part and share" of the President's family.

The investigation has been described as a "part and share" because it is a standard part of the PCGG's mandate to investigate alleged election fraud.

It has also been described as a "part and share" because it is a standard part of the President's family's involvement in the election.

2 proposals to keep Filipino doctors from going

Two proposals have been put forward to keep Filipino doctors from going abroad to work.

The first proposal is to increase the number of medical schools in the Philippines, so that more doctors can be trained locally.

The second proposal is to offer incentives to doctors who stay in the Philippines, such as higher salaries and better working conditions.

The proposals are being considered by the Department of Health, which is trying to address the shortage of doctors in the Philippines.

Court sends Roldan case back to DOJ

By Edson C. Tandoc Jr.

THE PASIG City Regional Trial Court (RTC) suspended proceedings on the kidnapping case against actor and former congressman Dennis Roldan, saying the justice department should first conduct a preliminary investigation.

Judge Agnes Carpio of the Pasig RTC Branch 261 said no arrest warrant or commitment order would be issued against Roldan in the meantime. The judge gave the National Prosecution Office at least 30 days to complete the preliminary investigation.

Roldan, whose real name is Mitchel Yap Gumabao, is the alleged mastermind in the kidnapping of a 3-year-old boy in February. His group allegedly asked for P250 million as ransom.

The justice department filed a case against the suspect in the Pasig City RTC on March 3.

Roldan said he was deprived of the right to a preliminary investigation, but the prosecution said he waived his right to a preliminary investigation. The court found merit in the arguments of the defense.

"The right of an accused to preliminary investigation... cannot be overly emphasized... It is not a mere formal or technical right; it is a substantive right," Carpio said in her decision. If Roldan undergoes preliminary investigation, he may also petition for bail.

While Roldan's case was sent back to the justice department, the prosecution formally charged yesterday Roldan's alleged girlfriend Suzette Wang, who was also implicated in the kidnapping. Also charged were Noel San Andres, Romeo Orcajada, Adrian Domingo and Octavio Garces.

Dasmarinas Village fire

A FIRE damaged yesterday morning a plush two-story house in an upscale Makati village reportedly belonging to the owner of a well-known restaurant chain. Firefighters used water from the next door neighbor's swimming pool to control the blaze. "We were so thankful that the neighbors volunteered," said Supt. Arsenio Tabajonda, chief of the Makati City Fire Department. The fire began around 10:44 a.m. inside one of the rooms at the second floor of the house at 2382 Mabolo Street, Dasmarinas Village, owned by Alberto Barretto, the owner of the Via Mare chain of fine-dining restaurants. Tabajonda said the neighbors offered the use of their pool when they noticed the firemen were looking for fire hydrants. The blaze, Tabajonda said, began near the room's air-conditioning unit and might have been caused by overloading or electrical short circuit. Though much of the house was spared, Tabajonda said damage caused by the fire might make the 30-year-old house no longer livable.

Let's talk dirty

I ask what you need a "stronger" signal.  I found no interesting pho-internal organs (facing the

Save Battery from pollution

Let's talk dirty...and save Saturday lunch pollution

It's a dirty little secret that many of us have known for years: The average horse owner spends about $1,000 a year on horse care. That's a lot of money, and it's a lot of money that's often spent on things that are not really necessary.

For example, many horse owners spend a lot of money on horse supplements. But the truth is, most horses do not need supplements. In fact, many horses are over-supplemented, which can be harmful to their health.

So, how can we save money on horse care? The answer is simple: We can stop spending so much money on unnecessary horse care. We can stop buying so many horse supplements, and we can stop buying so many horse products that we don't really need.
